

THE BEAUTY OF THE BLOOD

Michael Farren, Tony Wood, and Joseph Habedank

Coming clean, all the secrets he has kept from her so long are finally known
Her big mistake, that one regret that haunts her to this day; it just won't fade

So many different stories, we thought could not be redeemed,
But it's against our darkest failures, we start to see...

The beauty of the blood
The goodness of this grace
The mercy undeserved
That could never be explained
Heaven's best takes all the scars
For the worst in all of us
That's the glory of the cross
The wonder of His love
That's the beauty of the blood

What a thought, just a single drop forever wipes away our every stain
And with its power, every chain that held us now lies at our feet we stand free

Forever changed,
I stand amazed,
By everything it does...
