

24 HOURS

Joseph Habedank, Michael Farren, Kenna West

He's hit rock bottom once again
She's at home wondering where he is
Tears falling on the floor, she's pacing
He figures it's a losing fight
He's proving everybody right
The poster child of hopeless cases
These are demons he can't seem to shake
But thank God, she's more stubborn
Than the habit he can't break

Every second on your knees
Asking God to give you strength
When you're crying through the night
Turns into minutes that you see
A little glimpse of victory
Watching Jesus bring new life
24 hours at a time

They thought they'd never see the day
He'd finally check in to that place
And get the help that he's been needing
Those thirty days felt like a year
But he sobered up and faced the fear
And now he's finally tasting freedom
It was like the chains all fell away
And he made up his mind to do the work
It's gonna take

*She wasn't sure it was gonna last
But seven years sure goes by fast*
