

JESUS WASN'T LEAVING

Michael Farren, Tony Wood, Joseph Habedank

You never see it coming
When you're just a kid
You just hear the voices
Through the walls that keep on closing in
And they're blaming one another for what they did or didn't do
Then the sad goodbyes
And the reasons why this isn't about you

Two Christmases every year
A lot of pain and a lot of tears
A lot of sorting through what you thought you had
That just up and disappeared
Looking back, they had their reasons
At least they both agreed on Jesus
And Jesus wasn't leaving

Daddy got the summers
Mama got the rest
It was messy, it was hard
But I know they both tried their best
And it didn't matter much where I woke up
There was mercy every morning,
Enough for all of us

*Without a doubt
It breaks His heart
When these things don't work out
But take it from someone who knows,
He can the heal the broken hearts
In the worst of broken homes*
