

LONG LIVE THE KING

Joseph Habedank, Krissy Nordhoff, and Tony Wood

This is the moment defining the ages
This is the triumph He knew was in store
Jesus is risen, behold how the grave is
Crushed by the power of our living Lord!

The sunrise is shouting
The stone's rolled away
The whole earth is trembling with praise
This is our victory
Death has no sting
All of creation sings
Long live the King
All of creation sings
Long live the King

See how His majesty fills up the sky
Oh, how unstoppable His mighty love
He who was dead, now forever alive
Crown Him with glory, the conquering One

Hallelujah, let every ransomed heart cry
Hallelujah, praise to our Savior on high
Hallelujah, He is alive

Sure as the angel says, "He is not here!"
This is the promise: that we too shall rise
Hands that were wounded will dry every tear
As we see the face of our glorious Christ!
